

A Student Union Tour Through the Eyes of a Prospective Stanford Student

Your task is to explore the Tressider Memorial Union. However, instead of looking at it through your own eyes, imagine that you are Lee, a high school student from the New England area who is trying to get a feel for the academic and social life on Stanford's campus. As your tour guide shows you around, notice what might seem fascinating, fun, interesting or confusing through Lee's eyes and respond accordingly as you role-play.

